

Dear Friends,

As you know, the Aquarian Exposition has now assumed its position as a significant historical and sociological event. The festival and its message of peace and love have reached the hearts and minds of the entire world.

Each day we, here at the Woodstock Ventures offices, receive hundreds of letters from young people all over the country telling us about the numerous acts of kindness, mercy, and love rendered them by the people of White Lake and Bethel.

By accepting those of us with long hair and peculiar garb, you set an example for the world to follow. You, as a community, looked beyond our exteriors to our actions and found there bonds of fellowship.

To you who opened your hearts and your homes, we convey our gratitude and the gratitude of thousands of young people across the country.

Peace and Love

John Roberts President, Woodstock Ventures
